

Personal DailyWalk

October 16-22, 2017

Monday: Psalm 139:13-18 Do you ever just ponder the amazing work God did when he created man? How he created systems of healing and protection, yet also made us vulnerable? Yes, we are all fearfully and wonderfully made, but we can't do this life alone. We need God, and we need each other. Pray in thanksgiving to our creative God for the life he has woven for us. Pray, too, for those whose lives have been woven throughout your life.

Tuesday: John 10:11-18 Do you ever marvel at the thought that someone would die for you? Reflect on the Good Shepherd's sacrifice so that you may live. Pray in thanksgiving for that sacrifice.

Wednesday: John 15:12-17 Is Jesus only talking to the disciples here, or is He talking to us now? Is Jesus our friend? Can we be friends of Jesus and yet see Him as Lord and Savior? There does seem to be a bit of a conflict in the both/and. We want to be in a close relationship with Jesus, and we are also commanded to serve Him. Reflect and pray on your relationship with Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Thursday: Psalm 25 Pray Psalm 25 today asking for God's guidance and deliverance.

Friday: Romans 8:12-17 Who are our brothers and sisters? Pray for your brothers and sisters crying out, Abba! Father!

Saturday: Ephesians 5:22-33 Submission to another, even in a loving relationship, is extremely hard! Jesus has modeled it for us. Pray for God to strengthen your resolve to love others as Jesus loved the world, trusting God is at work in your relationships.

Sunday: Proverbs 17:9 I think it is safe to say, we all really like it when others forgive us for our missteps, but it is often hard for us to forgive others. Is there someone you should forgive so that your friendship may be healed? Today, pray for those who have hurt you, asking God for the strength and courage to forgive them, and for God to heal your relationship.